

NAME OF THE EVENT: Educational Tour on International Old Age Day

DATE: 05/10/23

Organized by : Department of Sanskrit & Department of Sociology

Number of students participated: 40

Report:-

An educational tour was organized at Lions Urmila Old Age Home on the occasion of 'International Day of Older Persons' by the Sanskrit Department and Sociology Department of Ram Krishna Dwarika College, Patna on 05/10/23, whose coordinator was Dr. Shailaja Sinha, Head of the Department of Sanskrit and Mr. Subodh Chaudhary was the head of the department of Sociology and Dr. Sarita Kumari was the assistant professor of the sociology department. Principal Dr. Arbind Kumar explained the importance of the experiences of the elderly in Indian society. On this occasion, 40 students of the above mentioned departments were taken to Lions – Urmila Old Age Home, Akshat Seva Sadan, Yarpur, Patna. Whose director Dr. Amulya Kumar Singh told the vision and mission of the old age home and also informed the students about the service work done in this ashram by Akshat Seva Sadan. Through this programme, the students thanked the old age home which provides shelter, care and service to the elderly people who are homeless under adverse circumstances and through direct contact with the elderly people, due to their reaching there, they got to know about the behaviour of the elderly people in their homes. To know their expectations from their families and society, their views regarding the facilities or lack of facilities available in the old age home. This excursion program will be successful in developing social values among the students and the students of the modern society will be able to know their responsibilities towards their family heritage.